THE FIRST ANNUAL HARVEY LECTURE

The September 21st meeting of your medical society will feature several "FIRSTS" in our medical family. It will be the first attempt at having two meetings in one evening. We will have an opportunity to observe your acceptance of the new meeting place (Mr. Anthony's) at Boardman-Poland Road and South Avenue, as a site for future meetings. This is located just west of the thruway I-680, making it easily accessible from the north side of Youngstown and Rootstown.

Individual Hospital Staff Meetings will begin promptly at 5:30 and end at 6:30. We will join forces for a social period of re-adjustment until 7 p.m., followed by dinner. Then we will initiate the first "Joseph Paul and Mary Collins Harvey Lectureship in Medicine" which has been so generously endowed by the Harvey family as an annual event with CME credit.

This memorial lecture is to include the medical staffs, interns, and residents of The Youngstown Hospital Association and St. Elizabeth's Hospital, as well as the students and faculty of The Northeastern Ohio Universities College of Medicine. Your attendance will be rewarded this year by a top quality Professor of Medicine at Emory University School of Medicine, Atlanta, Ga. Nanette K. Wenger, M.D., will share her extensive knowledge of Cardiology. Cardiology was always one of Paul Harvey's special interests.

I fondly remember Dr. Harvey as a most alert, kindly, well informed physician who delighted in sharing an interesting case with his fellow physicians. It is fitting that we should have such a prominent Professor for this first lecture.

Let us all join in expressing our appreciation for this generous contribution to our medical education.

R. M. Kiskaddon, M.D.

THIS'N THAT

Is anyone safe from anything anymore? One patient in New York will receive $500,000 from a pharmaceutical company she sued for damages allegedly arising from use of D.E.S. The court held the manufacturer liable even though the plaintiff could not prove the substance used was that company's product. The court said it was enough that the company did have such a product. Whew!

Ten cents of every dollar goes into health care, according to recent statistics. Do those seeking stiff regulations of this industry know or care about the many facets of this problem? Everyone wants the best for his family, regardless of cost. But many are quick to criticize others for doing exactly what they are doing. An easy solution is to give up all expensive advances since World War II and go back to the medicine of 50 years ago. By eliminating medical research, sales, education, manufacturing — and lowering everybody's standard of living through cutting wages and benefits — we can effect huge monetary savings. Everything has a price and good health is no exception. Responsibility should involve consumers and their advocates as well as providers.

Who is responsible for patient education? Hospitals, clinics, and private offices frequently have services available to do this. Well-organized units do a good job. But the ultimate responsibility rests with the physician who must have a clear picture in order to be effective in his management. The physician must gain the patient's confidence to determine his understanding, his following of direction, his use of self-medication, etc., that can affect outcome. —!

The prophets of doom startle us with radiation, overpopulation, decreasing water supply, substance abuse, environmental degeneration, etc. Less "intelligent" life forms have survived through adjustment. With our "superior intelligence" we can make it — that is, if common sense and reason prevail.

The educational process has become more complex, too, with many innovations. Because the human mind is finite, perhaps we should spend more time teaching and learning basic concepts and their understanding. The computer can give us the facts. What we need is to know how to utilize them.

And, then - - - - !

SOCIETY AT THE CANFIELD FAIR

Again this year, the Mahoning County Medical Society had charge of the medical and health exhibits at the Canfield Fair and this year's combined exhibit was rated as one of the best in years. Plans are already underway to make the 1983 project event better.

There were 36 exhibitors inside the Medical-Health Building and they represented a number of volunteer health agencies as well as some of the health-professions. As usual, this was one of the outstanding exhibitions at the Fair and one of the best of any county fair in the country.

From a patch of ground with a hastily thrown up tent to a magnificent frame structure, the Medical-Health exhibition has evolved into a star attraction with more than 200,000 people passing through the building during the Fair period.

The Canfield Fair Committee is comprised of Dr. Jack Schreiber as chairman, assisted by Dr. John C. Melnick, Dr. Frederick Friedrick, Dr. Frederick Resch, and Dr. Robert Sinsheimer. Mr. Gilbert James is Fair Board president this year and has traditionally been in charge of the building, ably assisted by Mr. George Finnerty. The cooperation and assistance rendered by these two men has been instrumental in the success of the Medical-Health Building and its exhibitions.

FOUNDATION MAKES SIX LOANS

A record six loans to medical students have been made by the Mahoning County Medical Society Foundation this year. Each loan was for $1,000 and the recipients were selected by the Foundation committee at its July meeting.

This brings the total of loans made by the Foundation to 45 since its inception 12 years ago. The increased funds for loans is mostly the result of increased returns from the funds of the Foundation.

Last fiscal year of the Foundation saw a total of almost $1,300 donated as memorials to persons who died or as outright gifts. When a contribution is sent to the Foundation in lieu of other indications of sympathy, the Foundation sends a delicately worded letter to the kin of the deceased, informing of the perpetuity of the gift as it generates funds for student loans.

The committee this year was headed by Dr. Sanford Gaylord as chairman, assisted by Drs. Robert McConnell, Juan Ruiz, John C. Melnick, J. B. Werning, and D. E. Pichette. Dr. Ruiz was elected chairman for the coming year.

From the Bulletin

FIFTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1932

The Meander Reservoir and filtration plant were put into operation after seven years preparation. Before that time we were drinking water from the Mahoning River, heavily flavored with chlorine. The new soft water dissolved a lot of old deposits present in the pipes and for a while it contained brown flakes which caused much protest from the consumers. The deposits soon were cleared out and we have been enjoying good pure water ever since.

In the early days of the Society the chief source of revenue was the collection of two dollar fines from any member who failed to prepare a paper when his turn came to appear on the program. The treasury usually had a cash balance of ten to fifteen dollars. Dr. Cunningham presented a paper in 1874 on scarlet fever in which he stated that the malady was not contagious but most of the members disagreed with him. They did agree on the use of ice water baths and large doses of wine for the "fever" and the application of leeches to the neck to reduce swelling.

Morris Rosenblum, Walter Tims and Sam Schwebel opened their offices for the practice of medicine.

FORTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1942

The war effort was in a state of feverish confusion. Rules and directives changed from day to day. The Bulletin mentioned induction examinations, civilian defense, scarcity of doctors, rationing of food and strikes of defense workers. Here are some of the regulations on rationing of tires:

1. Doctors are not eligible for new tires while the ones they are driving are recappable.
2. Application must be made while casings are recappable.
3. In instances where the casings are injured through no negligence of the doctor and cannot be recapped, the Board may permit purchase of new casings, but it must be shown that proper care has been exercised.

The Committee on Civilian Defense had to change its plan from day to day because of loss of personnel to the armed forces. Doctors who left that month were Fred Coombs, Lou Deitchman, Raymond Hall, J. B. Kupec, R. H. Middleton, W. W. Neidus, G. G. Nelson, John Noll, Harold Reese, M. S. Rosenblum, J. M. Russell, J. L. Scarneccchia, M. M. Szucs and Sam Tamarkin.

THIRTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1952

The American Cancer Society brought a group of seven speakers here from the Memorial Hospital in New York for a full day of Cancer Symposium at the Stambaugh Auditorium. Wm. Flynn made the arrangements and the program was outstanding, attracting many out-of-town guests.

There were five cases of polio reported, one scarlet fever, thirty-one gonorrhea and twenty of syphilis. No small-pox and no typhoid were reported.

Dr. Sidney Davidow became a diplomate of the American Board of Pediatrics.

There was a furor over fatal reactions to chloromycetin in children.

John Rogers won the Lyons trophy at the annual golf meet of the Medical Society and Coryden Palmer Dental Society with a low gross of 73.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1962

President Stertzbaugh wrote, "The best public relations man that money can buy is the one you see every day in the mirror!"

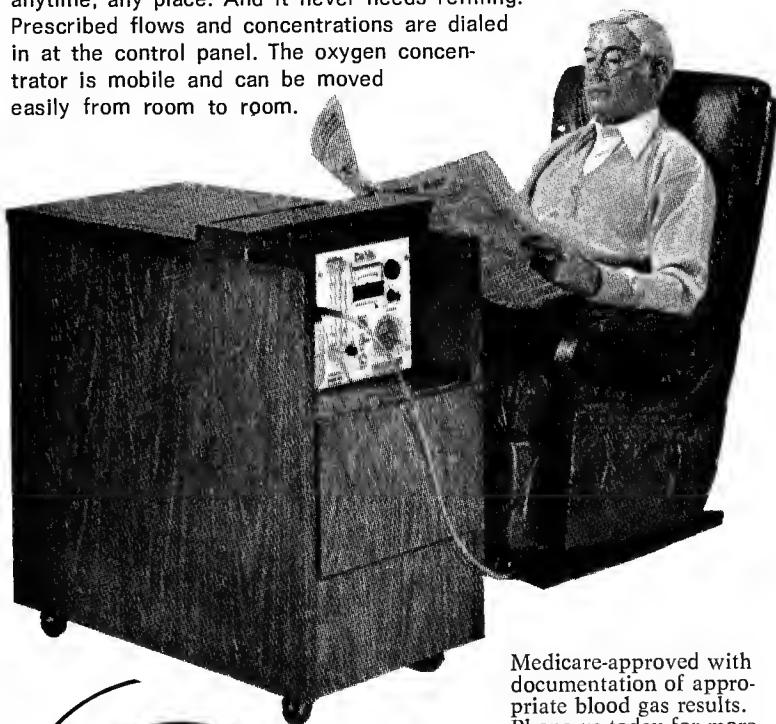

From the Legislative Committee: "Physicians are not interested in government — physicians are interested only in specific issues that affect them. We took an active role regarding 'Medicare' but have done nothing,

THE OXYGEN CONCENTRATOR

Continuous source of O<sub>2</sub> and peace of mind for you and your patients

No more ongoing parade of bulky tanks in and out of the home. No more hassle with gauges, valves and potential hazards. No more fear of "running out" before a refill can be delivered. The oxygen concentrator brings continuous or PRN medical grade oxygen to your patient at the touch of a switch as it "manufactures" oxygen from room air, anytime, any place. And it never needs refilling.

Prescribed flows and concentrations are dialed in at the control panel. The oxygen concentrator is mobile and can be moved easily from room to room.

for example, regarding water pollution, a program for retarded children, the increasing cost of state mental hospitalization."

The Ohio Chapter of the American College of Surgeons was here for a two day meeting at the Hotel Ohio. Stephen Ondash was in charge of the arrangements. Thirty-two guest speakers were listed. Local participants were: Gordon Nelson, John McDonough, Oscar Turner, William Flynn, and J. K. Herald.

Carl Klodell opened his office for the practice of ophthalmology. Ed Shorten was planning to build a professional office building on Oak Hill Avenue. Arthur Rappoport was Program Chairman for the meeting of the College of American Pathologists and American Society of Chemical Pathologists.

TEN YEARS AGO — SEPTEMBER 1972

The Medical Society Centennial Year celebration continued. The July issue traced the growth of the Youngstown Hospital since it was incorporated in 1881. The August issue described the birth of St. Elizabeth Hospital in 1909 through to the extension of the West Wing in 1972. These articles were, of course, extensively researched and presented by Editor John Melnick.

As a part of the Centennial celebration, the Canfield Fair moved the original office of Dr. S. G. Patton, Sr. into Pioneer Village on the Fair-grounds. It was rebuilt and refurbished with antiques of medical equipment of the period. The Canfield Fair Board also honored the Mahoning County Medical Society for twenty years of consecutive participation in the Fair. The first Medical Society Exhibit was actually in 1946. Later, the allied professions were incorporated into the Medical Tent and in 1971 this became a permanent building at the Fair.

The September issue had a feature article on the "Doc's of Dixieland" who were formed in 1958 and are still going strong.

Nothing was reported about Venereal Disease, Tuberculosis, or Typhoid Fever. Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever was reported in Ohio with three deaths recorded.

Sign of the times — Effective June 3, 1972, the sale of Paregoric was restricted to oral or written prescription. No more over the counter sales were permitted.

An added complication... in the treatment of bacterial bronchitis*

Some ampicillin-resistant strains of Haemophilus influenzae—a recognized complication of bacterial bronchitis*—are sensitive to treatment with Cefotar.<sup>1-6</sup>

In clinical trials, patients with bacterial bronchitis due to susceptible strains of Streptococcus pneumoniae, H. influenzae, S. pyogenes (group A beta-hemolytic streptococci), or multiple organisms achieved a satisfactory clinical response with Cefotar.<sup>7</sup>

Brief Summary.*Consult the package literature for prescribing information.*Indications and Usage: Cecor® (ceclovir, Lilly) is indicated in the treatment of the following infections when caused by susceptible strains of the designated microorganisms:Lower respiratory infections, including pneumonia caused by Streptococcus pneumoniae (Diplococcus pneumoniae), Haemophilus influenzae, and S. pyogenes (group A beta-hemolytic streptococci).

Appropriate culture and susceptibility studies should be performed to determine susceptibility of the causative organism to Cecor.

Contraindication: Cecor is contraindicated in patients with known allergy to the cephalosporin group of antibiotics.Warnings: In PENICILLIN SENSITIVE PATIENTS: CEPHALOSPORIN ANTIBIOTICS SHOULD BE ADMINISTERED CAUTIOUSLY. THERE IS CLINICAL AND LABORATORY EVIDENCE OF PARTIAL CROSS-ALLERGY OF THE PENICILLINS AND THE CEPHALOSPORINS, AND THERE ARE INSTANCES IN WHICH PATIENTS HAVE HAD REACTIONS, INCLUDING ANAPHYLAXIS, TO BOTH DRUG CLASSES.

Antibiotics, including Cecor, should be administered cautiously to any patient who has demonstrated some form of allergy, particularly to drugs.

Precautions: If an allergic reaction to Cecor occurs, the drug should be discontinued, and, if necessary, the patient should be treated with appropriate agents, e.g., pressor amines, antihistamines, or corticosteroids.

Prolonged use of certain antibiotics result in the overgrowth of nonsusceptible organisms. Careful observation of the patient is essential. If superinfection occurs during therapy, appropriate measures should be taken.

Positive direct Coombs tests have been reported during treatment with the cephalosporin antibiotics. In hematologic studies or in transfusion cross-matching procedures when antihistidine tests are performed on the minor side or in Coombs testing of newborns whose mothers have received cephalosporin antibiotics before parturition, it should be recognized that a positive Coombs test may be due to the drug.

Cecor should be administered with caution in the presence of markedly impaired renal function. Under such a condition, careful clinical observation and laboratory studies should be made before and after administration of Cecor to determine the proper dosage requirements.

As a result of administration of Cecor, a false-positive reaction for glucose in the urine may occur. This has been observed with Benedict's and Fehling's solutions and also with Clinistix® tablets but not with Test-Tape® (Glucose Enzymatic Test Strip, USP, Lilly).

Usage in Pregnancy— Safety of this product for use in infants less than one month of age has not been established.Adverse Reactions: Adverse effects considered related to cefaclor therapy are uncommon and are listed below.

Gastrointestinal symptoms occur in about 2.5 percent of patients and include diarrhea (1 in 70) and nausea and vomiting (1 in 50).

As with other broad-spectrum antibiotics, colitis, including rare instances of pseudomembranous colitis, has been reported in conjunction with therapy with Cecor.

Hypersensitivity reactions have been reported in about 1.5 percent of patients and include morbilliform eruptions (1 in 100). Pruritus, urticaria, and positive Coombs tests each occur in less than 1 in 200 patients. Cases of serum-sickness-like reactions (erythema multiforme or the above skin manifestations accompanied by arthritis/arthritis and, frequently, fever) have been reported. These reactions are apparently due to hypersensitivity and have usually occurred during or following a second course of therapy with Cecor. Such reactions have been reported more frequently in children than in adults. Signs and symptoms usually occur a few days after initiation of therapy and subside within a few days after cessation of therapy. No serious sequelae have been reported. Antihistamines and corticosteroids appear to enhance resolution of the syndrome.

Cases of anaphylaxis have been reported, half of which have occurred in patients with a history of penicillin allergy.

Other effects considered related to therapy (included eosinophilia (1 in 50 patients) and genital pruritis or vaginitis (less than 1 in 100 patients)).

Causal Relationship Uncertain— Transitory abnormalities in clinical laboratory test results have been reported. Although they were of uncertain etiology, they are listed below to serve as alerting information for the physician.

Hepatitis—Slight elevations in SGOT, SGPT, or alkaline phosphatase values (1 in 40).

Hematopoietic—Transient fluctuations in leukocyte count, predominantly lymphocytosis occurring in infants and young children (1 in 40).

Renal—Slight elevations in BUN or serum creatinine (less than 1 in 500) or abnormal urinalysis (less than 1 in 200). [100281R]
